Walter Irving Bates, a member of the Bar of Crawford County.
Entered Dec. 3, 1934.

And now Dec 3, 1934, Memorial reported by the Committee of the Crawford County Bar Association was presented and read in open Court, by Walter J. McClintock Esq. of the committee, whereupon it was ordered that the report be filed, spread at length upon the Record and a copy thereof presented to the family and to the Press. Per Curiam. O. Clare Kent P.J.

Report

To the Honorable O. Clare Kent, Judge of the several Courts of Crawford County, Pennsylvania:

The committee appointed to prepare and present resolutions on the death of Walter Irving Bates respectfully reports as follows:

Walter Irving Bates was born June 15, 1873 a son of Samuel P. Bates and Sarah Josephine Bates and on December 5, 1892 he was registered as a student-at-law in Crawford County. He pursued his law studies and on Nov. 25, 1895, having satisfied the requirements of the Law Examining Committee, he was admitted to practice in the several Courts of this County and was engaged in the active practice of law from that time until 1899 when he acquired the Tribune Publishing Company and became the editor of the Tribune Republican and the Evening Republican, two newspapers published by that Company, which position he held until his death.

On February 7, 1901, he was married to Miss Marion Josephine Sackett, who, with four children, survives him.

While he was not engaged actively in the practice of law but for a short period, he was always interested in the Bar, attended its functions and was ever ready to give his counsel and advice to any member of the Bar. His genial and friendly personality endeared him to all with whom he came in contact and your Committee is sure that every member of the Bar who knew him intimately misses his friendly greetings and wise counsel.

Mr. Bates was the personification of hospitality, always greeting a guest in friendship and whether he called at Mr. Bates' office or home was always greeted made to feel at ease and that his presence was welcome and his departure re-

During the last few years of his life Mr. Bates' health was affected and although advised by his physician to relieve himself of as much of his work as possible he was too conscientious to do so and he died in the harness. He had spent a few months in the South last winter and upon his return went immediately to his office and resumed his work. A day or two later he collapsed while at work and lived but a short time, dying on May 5, 1934.

Mr Bates memory will remain green in the minds of his friends and of the community which he served so well in many capacities, having been interested in practically all of the worth while public affairs of the community, state and nation.

It is suggested that this report be spread upon the minutes of the Court, and that a copy thereof be delivered to the Press and one to his family. Respectfully submitted Walter J. McClintock

And now, Dec. 3, 1934, Memorial reported by the Committee of the Crawford County Bar Association was presented and read in open Court, by Wesley B. Best Esq. of the committee, whereupon it was ordered that the Report be filed, spread at length upon the record and a copy thereof presented to the family and to the Press. Per Curiam. O Clare Kent P.J.

Report

It was with a distinct shock, that the members of the Crawford County Bar Association learned of the death of the Hon. Arthur L. Bates, for many years a distinguished member of the Crawford County bar and of this Association; While it was known that he was ill, only those nearest to him were aware that his condition was serious. In his passing, the Bar of Crawford County has lost one of its oldest and most prominent members. Mr. Bates was admitted to practice Law on September 25, 1882, and from that time until he was elected to Congress, industriously and successfully practiced his profession in Crawford and adjoining counties. In 1889 he was chosen solicitor of the City of Meadville and served the city in that position, capably and well for four terms until 1896. He was born in Meadville June 6, 1859, the son of Samuel L. Bates and S. Josephine Bates; attended Allegheny College from which he graduated with honors in the class of 1880. From that time he took an active part in the civic life of his home city and was an earnest worker in every worth while project. Mr. Bates was a Republican in principle, and in 1880, just out of College, campaigned Crawford County for James A. Garfield, the Republican candidate for President.

He was elected to Congress for six consecutive terms, serving the Erie-Crawford district from 1901 to 1913. During this period he accomplished much for the improvement of the harbor at Erie and was successful in having the present Post Office building erected in Meadville. He was at all times a tireless worker for those things beneficial to people of his District. In his private, as well as public life, he was an outstanding citizen. In 1907 he was elected a life Trustee of Allegheny College and for more than a quarter of a century worked energetically to promote the best interests of his Alma Mater. In 1920 the college bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws. On July 6, 1914 Mr. Bates was elected a Director of the Meadville City Hospital; his worth was recognized, and he continued to be a member of the Board until his death.

While Mr. Bates was concerned in many enterprises of civic importance to Meadville, he will, perhaps, be best remembered for his ardent and whole souled work in the interest of the Meadville City Library, it was he who was largely responsible for the construction of the present building located at the northwest corner of the Public Square. In his death the Crawford County Bar Association losses one of its most prominent members, and the City of Meadville one of its most public spirited citizens.

We wish as an association, to express our sorrow at his passing and to extend our heartfelt sympathy to his wife and daughter hoping that their grief may be somewhat assuaged by the thought that his was a life well spent and that he leaves behind him memories of worth while things accomplished.

In re Memorial

Former President Judge

The Bar of Crawford County Pennsylvania upon the death of the Honorable Frank J. Thomas, former President Judge of the Courts of the said County.

Resolved that the Bar of the County of Crawford, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, now meeting and in session this fourth day of February 1935, express hereby its profound respect and warmest regard for our late brother, the Honorable Frank J. Thomas, and its deep, and most sincere sorrow for his death; and does now submit this minute to his memory; to the end that the same may be adopted and entered at length upon the records of the Courts of this County over which he presided so long and well and so satisfactorly to the people of this his native County.

Frank J. Thomas was born in Woodcock Township, Crawford County Pennsylvania on October 13, 1859, and died at his home in the City of Meadville, December 10, 1934. In his youth educations in out-lying country districts was rather primitive and no easy matter to secure; but coming of sturdy pioneer stock Judge Thomas nevertheless succeeded in securing from those schools an education sufficient to qualify him as a teacher, a vocation which he followed for some time and for entrance later into Allegheny College, from which he graduated in the class of 1885 and at once became Supervising Principal of the Borough of Sagertown, this County.

This securing of an education and his subsequent following of the vocation of a lawyer, illustrate well the controlling qualities of the mind of our departed brother, which qualities are well expressed by the two words "ambition" and "determination." Either of these qualities by itself alone amounts to nothing. Ambition without determination develops a mere dreamer who attains to no great heights. Determination alone makes a man an aimless wanderer in the affairs of life. But ambition and determination combined in a man's character is an impelling force, which drives the man to heights accordingly as he has those mental qualities in a greater or lesser consuming intensity.

These two qualities our departed brother had in a superlative degree. They drove him through a country school and then gave him a collegiate education, secured his admission to the Bar of his native County, and finally made him President Judge of the Courts of that County, a distinction which every lawyer hopes to attain but which few, very few, succeed in securing.

He registered as a law student with the late Honorable John J. Henderson and upon the elevation of that gentleman to the office of President Judge of this County, entered the office of Senator Homer J. Humes as a student at law and there finished his apprenticeship and was admitted to practice before the Courts of this County on May 16, 1889, when he formed a law partnership with his preceptor, which continued until the year 1897 when he entered the lists for President Judge of this County and although he was a comparatively young man and was opposed by the then incumbent, one of the best known Judges in Western Pennsylvania, and one who had had a wide and varied experience as a practitioner extending over many years, defeated him for re-election and on the first Monday of January, 1898 Judge Thomas took his seat upon the Bench of this County and served for ten years and at the end of the term refused to run for re-election.

Although he had been signally successful as a practitioner at the Bar and was recognized as a hard working, sound and painstaking lawyer, well versed in the principles of his profession and a man of the highest integrity, it is as a Judge that he is best known, respected and admired by the people of this part of the State.

No lawyer has ever appeared before him who can truthfully say that he was ever treated with anything but the greatest courtesy and consideration, No sarcastic or cutting remarks to the lawyer before him ever fell from his lips. No lawyer ever left his court room with bitterness in his heart from unkind words said to him from the Bench upon which Judge Thomas presided. While he and his practitioner might not agree upon the law in the case yet he was to his Bar Kindness personified. Neither did he ever pre-judge a man's case, but both the oral argument and brief of his counsel, be they ever so inexperienced, were always given the most careful and thoughtful consideration. No hastily or ill-judged opinions were ever handed down by Judge Thomas. While he necessarily had to find against a lawyer supporting the losing side, yet lawyers practicing before him always felt that whatever decision Judge Thomas arrived at, it was an honest conclusion, never hastily arrived at but always given after careful thought and careful examination of the applicable decisions, often found by him after only the most extensive research, but Judge Thomas never spared effort labor or time to satisfy himself that the judgment or decree he was about to enter was the right one.

Neither did he ever mutilate the record of a case tried before him. Having within him the consciousness that he was right in his rulings, charges and conduct of his cases, he always gave the losing side a direct and correct record for an appeal. No interlineations or erasures in the record of his rulings or charges ever appeared in the record of cases tried before him and when the records were laid before the appellate courts they disclosed only what transpired and all that transpired in the trial of the case. Judge Thomas on (and off too for that matter) the Bench was inherently honest. The following words of the great Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, the Honorable Jeremiah Black, spoken in that all too short but still wonderful eulogium delivered by him upon the death of another great Chief Justice of this Commonwealth, John Bannister Gibson, apply to Judge Thomas Vide Vol. 19 of the Pennsylvania State Reports at page 9: "He was inflexibly honest, The judicial ermine was as unspotted when he laid it aside for the habiliments of the grave, as it was when he first assumed it. I do not mean to award him merely that common-place integrity which it is no honor to have, but simply a disgrace to want. He was not only incorruptible, but scrupulously, delicately, conscientiously free from all wilful wrong, either in thought word or deed." After his retirement from the Bench, Judge Thomas resumed the practice of law first with Albert L. Thomas, Esquire, his kinsman, and then with his son Paul C. Thomas Esquire, which latter partnership continued until the Judge's death. As a practitioner he continued his upright career. No sharp practice was ever laid to his door. His ideas of ethics of our profession were of the highest. He was a dangerous opponent in a law suit, but always a courteous and honorable one. It can never be said of him that he won his cases "by hook or by crook". He relied upon the righteousness of his cause and the "law of the land". Judge Thomas was a religious man -- not a passive but rather a militant one. He once told one of the members of this committee that he had taught a class in the Sunday School of his Church for thirty years and except when prevented by illness or absence from the city had never missed attendance upon his class. He followed well the mandate from the greatest code of laws ever promulgated "Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least Commandments and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the Kingdom of heaven". Matt. 5:19. Thus Judge Thomas lived to the tenets of his Presbyterian faith. It may be truly said of him as is engraved on the tombstone of James Lewis Pettigru in Charleston, South Carolina. "In the admiration of his peers In respect of his people In the affection of his family His was the highest place. Unawed by opinion Unseduced by flattery Undismayed by disaster He confronted life with antique courage And death with Christian "hope" Vale amicus bonus. We feel that if we conduct ourselves as you did, we shall meet you where you wait for us on the other shore. In a pronounced degree Judge Thomas was a Nestor to the members of this Bar, particularly to the young practitioners. They always felt free to go to him for a solution of their knotty problems. Time and again he would lay aside a particular piece of work, upon which he was engaged, and with great care and patience and apparently with the same keen interest in difficult legal problems which he had shown when on the Bench. he would solve the Gordian Knots which annoyed his brother practitioner, not by stooping to sever them with the keen edge of a naked knife, which gets nobody anywhere; but like a true lawyer unraveled them completely to his own satisfaction and that of his brother lawyer. We submit further the adoption of the following, Resolution, That these resolutions and this minute be spread upon the minutes of this court and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased. Committee Albert L. Thomas, Otto A. Stolz, Thomas J. Prather, Eugene Mackey.

Testimony & Order filed.

Order: Now, July 17, 1935, after hearing in this habeas corpus proceedings, it appearing that the information filed with the Justice and the proceedings instituted by him do not meet and comply with the requirements of the law of this State in that no certified copy of the charge or complaint filed against the relator, upon which the warrant was issued, was attached to the warrant in this case, it clearly appears to the Court that the arrest and proceeding is illegal. The defendant, therefore, is hereby discharged.

It is further ordered that the cash bail deposited by the relator, conditioned for his appearance for this hearing, be returned to the relator, less the officer's costs incidental to the taking of cash bail.
