And now, November 14, 1940, the within motion is allowed, and motion to amend libel, granted April 3, 1939, is hereby vacated, and leave is hereby granted libellant to make new affidavit thereto nunc pro tunc, before a duly authorized person.

On Arg'r. List for Nov. Term, 1940, No. 26

Now Dec. 6, 1940, the record in this case discloses that the affidavit to the libel was taken before the libellants attorney. The courts have ruled that this is not proper practice and sufficient grounds for dismissal. An attempt was made to correct the error by substituting an amended libel, this was later withdrawn and leave granted to substitute a proper affidavit nunc pro tunc, such was never completed and further service made hence we can but dismiss the libel and refuse the decree at this time. We are of the opinion that the stipulation should state the questions of law involved, the facts to be considered by the Court and an agreement as to judgment of the Court to be entered, as it may determine the questions of law submitted. In short we can but conclude that the present stipulation of counsel is incomplete and does not give the Court authority. We suggest that counsel prepare and file a new and more complete stipulation.

Accordingly the record is returned to the Prothonotary to afford counsel an opportunity to comply with the above suggestions or further proceeding as they may determine is right and proper in the premises.
