The Master has recommended a divorce on the latter ground only, as there was no evidence whatsoever of cruel and barbarous treatment. Other than two isolated instances of conduct less than proper with other men, the proof of one of which leaves considerable to the imagination, there is little evidence of indignities except the statement frequently repeated throughout the testimony that she constantly nagged and criticized the plaintiff so that life became unbearable for him. Certainly the fact that defendant frequently consulted doctors is not an indignity, yet that seems to be one of plaintiff's chief complaints. Any evidence on his part that she was elsewhere would be mere hearsay and as such inadmissable as evidence and should not have been considered by the Master. In any event it seems rather strange that these alleged visits by this minor defendant to the Moose and V.F.W. Club could be without plaintiff's

June 24, 1952, Order filed:- Mook, P. J. This action of divorce is based on a charge of indignities to the person. From a reading of the testimony it appears that most of the indignities were committed by defendant's mother, but unfortunately we cannot grant plaintiff a divorce from her as they are not married.

I concede that a wife is entitled to a home of her own with her husband, and the wilful and persistent refusal of her husband to furnish such a home may well be the equivalent of desertion, but I am not satisfied that the presence of a critical mother-in-law in plaintiff's home establishes indignities on the part of her husband. Ordinarily indignities consists of acts by the offending spouse evidencing hatred, malice or ill will and not mere indifference.

Other than the foregoing the only testimony of indignities by the defendant consists of general statements that "he was always complaining" or that "he was constantly belittling me". There are numerous lower Court decisions to the effect that such generalizations are of little evidential value, and therefore, plaintiff should fully state the facts upon which such complaints are made, stating specifically what was said and under what circumstances. The statements as to what defendant told other people at work are of course pure hearsay and of no evidential value. However, in view of the testimony of plaintiff that her health was so greatly impaired by defendant's conduct, we will refer the case back to the Master in order that specific

June 24, 1952, Order filed:- Mook, P.J. The plaintiff seeks a divorce on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to the person. There is no evidence whatsoever of cruel and barbarous treatment and the evidence of indignities are stated in such general terms that it is difficult to ascertain whether the indignities complained of are sufficient to sustain a decree in divorce or not. The plaintiff testified that her husband never showed her any respect or consideration and that he humiliated her on many occasions and that he rebuffed and treated her in a surly manner. Other than these general statements there is scarcely any evidence in the case of indignities to the person. However, due to the age of the parties and due to the fact that they have been permanently separated for some time we are restrained to refer the case back to the Master in order that the plaintiff may have an opportunity to state her case with more specific detail as is required by the law in actions of divorce on the grounds of indignities to the person.

Accordingly, the case is referred back to the Master, R. D. Mahany, in order that a further hearing may be had in this case.

Order

Mook, P. J.

And Now, May 24, 1952, upon presentation of the within petition for a writ of habeas corpus, the petition is dismissed for the following reasons:

1. The relator was indicted and found guilty by a jury on two indictments for larceny at No. 43 A and 43 B May Term 1948 in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

2. He was represented by able counsel who filed a motion for a new trial in his behalf, which was overruled and valid sentences were entered.

3. No appeal was ever taken from the sentences of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Crawford County.

4. Thereafter, a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at No. 1609 Miscl. Docket 1950. Able counsel was appointed by the Supreme Court, to-wit, Attorney Robert Boyle of the Allegheny County Bar, to represent the relator in said proceedings. An order was entered by the Supreme Court directing the Court of Quarter Sessions of Crawford County to hold a hearing and make findings of fact and remit the same to the Supreme Court. Pursuant to the order of the Supreme Court, a hearing was held at which time the relator was present together with his counsel. Thereafter, the Court of Quarter Sessions of Crawford County made its findings of fact and remitted the same to the Supreme Court and the petition was dismissed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

5. The averments contained in the present petition are the same as alleged in the former petition filed in the Supreme Court. No new question is raised and the matter is res adjudicata.

County Bar

In Memoriam.

To the Honorable Herbert A. Mook, President Judge of the Said Court:

Your Committee, appointed to present a Memorial on the death of the late Edward J. Mc Donald, Esq., respectfully reports the following:

Because your Honorable Court has seen fit to continue a gracious and thoughtful custom which has been followed for many years in our local Court, your Committee, as requested, has prepared its report on the passing of Attorney Edward J. Mc Donald, late of Titusville, Pennsylvania, in order that there may be perpetuated in the minutes of this Court a record of his life and achievements.

Edward J. Mc Donald was born in Titusville on July 14, 1907, the son of the late Francis J. and Margaret C. Mc Donald. After his graduation from St. Titus Highschool in his home town, he attended Niagara University in Buffalo, New York, graduating in 1929. In 1932 he received his law degree from the Georgetown University Law School. After his graduation he became associated with the law firm of Kelly and Mogilowitz in Oil City, and in May of 1934 he opened his own law offices in Titusville where he practiced until his death on July 2, 1952.

Mr. Mc Donald was survived by his wife, the former Treva Antill, whom he married on July 31, 1939. His niece, Yvonne Antill, who had been raised by him and his wife from early childhood was also a member of his family. One of a large family, he was also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Monsignor Robert B. Mc Donald; Walter A. Mc Donald; Laura, Margaret, and Evelyn Mc Donald; Mrs. James P. Prenatt; and Mrs. Raymond Gerard.

The man whose memory we are honoring today was one of Crawford County's best known lawyers. Admitted to practice in the various Courts of our County and the neighboring Counties, as well as in the Federal Courts and in the Courts of the District of Columbia, he enjoyed a very large and most successful legal practice, in the course of which he handled for many years a great number of cases in all of these Courts, as well as before various administrative agencies of our State and Federal governments.

Born with a natural intelligence, possessed of an unusual pleasant and warm personality, gifted with a wealth of solid good sense and judgment, proficient in his ability to persuasively plead his convictions, and fully cognizant of the deep responsibility of his profession to help all who needed his services, regardless of their ability to pay, it was inevitable that he would achieve an early success in his professional work. Being Kind, tolerant, and sympathetic, he was easily able to understand his fellow man. His great joy was that his profession afforded him the opportunity to serve all who needed his help. All who knew him were constantly aware of how proud he was to be a member of the Bar and

And it is further ordered that while the children are in the custody of their father, that he likewise will see to it that they are given proper care and attention both by him and his wife.

The Court further suggests that they be taken to Sunday School while they are at the home of their father and while they are with their mother on alternate week-ends. It is further suggested that the father make immediate arrangements for Karen to continue her piano lessons and if the children wish to join the Brownies or participate in Girl Scout activities, that both of the said children shall be given the right to do so.

The children shall not be removed from the custody of either parent at any time when it would prejudice their health or welfare.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Harvey Steadman, Petitioner

Dr. John W. Claudy, Warden, Western State Penitentiary

The petitioner was charged with the commission of statutory rape and bastardy; was convicted by a jury and sentenced. In his present application petitioner raises a number of questions only two of which merit consideration, viz., that he was not present when the jury was selected, and neither was he present when the jury returned its verdict. From the testimony submitted we find as a fact that the petitioner's contentions are true. A somewhat similar situation arose in Commonwealth ex rel. Milewski vs. Ashe, 362 Penna. 48, in which Mr. Chief Justice Maxey comments on page 51: "A prisoner on trial for a felony has an inherent and inalienable right to be present at the rendition of the verdict against him." The law as thus stated followed the decision of Chief Justice Gibson in Prine v. Commonwealth, 18 Penna. 103. While the petitioner was at liberty on bail it is amply established that he was readily available but was not notified of the jury's readiness to return a verdict. In support of the necessity of giving a defendant charged with the commission of a felony reasonable notice of the jury's return we quote from Commonwealth ex rel. Milewski vs. Ashe: "That if such defendant is not in custody his absence from the Court room when the verdict is announced may be construed as a voluntary waiver on his part of his right to be present, but even when a defendant in a felony case is at liberty he and his counsel should be given reasonable notice, if it is practicable so to do, that the jury is about to return its verdict.

Petitioner also complains of the selection of the jury in his absence and of the fact that some jurors were placed on the jury to whose presence thereon he had valid objections. Despite his protest these jurors were permitted to serve.

In the respects just mentioned the defendant was denied his fundamental rights guaranteed to him by the constitution not only of the Commonwealth, but also by the constitution of the United States. We are of the opinion that the petitioner is entitled to the relief sought in this application.

And Now, June —, 1954, the rule issued on the petition of petitioner in the above entitled matter is made absolute; the verdict of guilty returned against petitioner at No. 98 September Sessions, 1943 in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Crawford County, Pennsylvania, is set aside and the sentence imposed that he was always endeavoring to bring honor to himself and his fellow practitioners. Another expression of his loyalty to the profession was his membership in the Crawford County and Pennsylvania Bar Association and an active membership in the Northwestern Pennsylvania Alumni Association of the Georgetown University Law School.

Edward J. McDonald, late of the Crawford County Bar

He was always a worthy opponent in all of his professional activities and he never failed to be respectful and courteous to the Court and to all with whom he came into contact. He enjoyed the confidence, good will, and respect of the Courts and the various court house officials wherever he practiced. His loyalty and deep sense of responsibility resulted in a close and warm relationship between him and his many clients, all of whom will hold him in grateful memory for his wise counsel and many acts of kindness in helping them in a critical or trying phase of their life.

Despite the fact that he enjoyed a very busy practice, with the attendant demands on his time and energy, yet he took an unusually active interest in all of the civic affairs of his beloved city. He was particularly interested in the cause of youth and gave unceasingly of his time, talent, and financial aid in providing wholesome recreational activities for them and thereby destroying the sources of juvenile delinquency. Hardly a single project of a civic, patriotic fraternal, or religious nature was launched in the community which did not have him at the helm lending his unusual organizing ability and talent to its ultimate success.

A leader in the Catholic lay activities, Mr. McDonald was a member and trustee of the St. Titus Church and one of the founders of the St. Joseph Lyceum. In addition to being a member of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus and Trustee of his local Council, he was also a director of the St. Catherine Cemetery Association. For many years he was very active in the Moose and Eagles Clubs, and he was a past exalted ruler and honorary life member of the Titusville Elks Club. At his death he was a director and past president of the Titusville Chamber of Commerce and he had served for many years with the Titusville Community Chest organization in many capacities. A member of the Board of Directors of the Burgess Park Association he was very active in its promotion. In its initial stage he was also a member of the Recreation Association's Steering Committee during the financial campaign and made many speeches before various civic clubs and successfully obtained their aid and financial assistance.

Being a very able and popular speaker, he was in constant demand as a toastmaster or as a principal speaker at many important community meetings for many years. In fact, his presence on a program always assured it of being a success.

It is no surprise that since he had such a keen interest in his community welfare, that he would participate in its political affairs. A Democrat, he was both influential and active in many political campaigns in the city and in the county. Yet, he often rose above partisan politics and actively supported outstanding county office holders even though they were members of the opposite party. All of the many facts which we have recited clearly evidence the fact that Edward J. McDonald had achieved the greatly desired ability of being able to live with others in a sincere, useful and happy manner which resulted in all of his professional and public service bringing him happiness, success, respect, and honor. His cheerful and smiling countenance brought heartfelt comfort and good will to all with whom he came into contact. His warm, kind and sincere treatment of his many friends made them firm in their conviction that in him they had a true and loyal friend.

The energy of will, the activity of mind, and love of heart that he put into his labors for his fellow men, regardless of race, color, or creed could have been spread over twice as long a period and still have been considered an unusual achievement.

Because of the deep love and affection and the respect and honor all of his family, friends, and acquaintances had for him, it was easy to understand why his church, at his funeral, was filled to the over-flow and why his funeral was the largest attended in the city for many years. The esteem with which he was held by those whom he served during his lifetime is well expressed in the Titusville Herald of July 4, 1952, by Edwin Garnet Riley, a humble but gifted colored gentleman who wrote:

"A noble figure planned and wrought
With every kindly virtue fraught,
A lofty character and grand
With open heart and open hand.

"Like a colossal sphinx he stood
For truth and right and brotherhood,
And let his benedictions fall
Like summer showers on one and all.

"Then let us softly shed a tear
While gazing on his scented bier;
Too few are those who live and learn
Their path of duty to discern."

This simple but eloquent tribute helps to express why the passing of Edward J. McDonald was a loss to the Crawford County Bar and to the community of Titusville which cannot be replaced. Of him it can be truly said that he was a loving husband and brother, a very fine and most successful lawyer, a sincere Christian layman, a true and loyal friend, and an outstanding American citizen. In the fullness of his life, possessed of a warm personality with a deep and everlasting capacity for sincere and true friendship and for serving his fellow man, he went down "like a lordly cedar green with boughs." It is easy to understand why his going has left a "lonesome place against the sky." His memory will long
