"I hereby respectfully request that the above-entitled divorce case be referred back to me for the purpose of holding a hearing in accordance with the rules of our Court and the laws of this Commonwealth.
This case was set for hearing without previous arrangement with me, and I was first called after the testimony was being recorded, and as a matter of fact I was not able to get to the hearing until everything had been completed by Mr. Culbertson.
I read the testimony and after questioning the two witnesses relative to some of the facts to which they testified, I asked each of them a question; however, I am satisfied that I have not complied with the rules of our Court and the laws of this Commonwealth as a result of a recent study which I have made on divorce hearings."

November 19, 1954 Order Mook, P.J. — In this divorce case service was obtained upon the defendant by the Sheriff of Chester County which appears to be proper except for the fact that there is no affidavit attached to the sheriffs return. The rule does not absolutely require a sheriff's return to be sworn to but there is authority that a return of service not under oath is invalid. See Standard Pennsylvania Practice Vol. 1, Page 481. However the rule requiring the Sheriff's return to be sworn to is so firmly entrenched in local practice that we hesitate to depart from it. We think however, the return may be amended by having it sworn to and we will turn the case back to the Master in order that the plaintiff may have the sheriff's return amended.
