And Now, July 14, 1958 a rule having been granted upon the parties to the above entitled case to show cause why an issue should not be framed to determine the ownership of goods and chattels levied upon by the plaintiff as the property of the defendant which are claimed by William A. Gibson and Esther Louise Gibson, his wife, as their sole and separate property, which said rule was made returnable this day at 9:30 A.M. and neither party having appeared to object to the granting of the rule;

It is, therefore, ordered that an issue be framed between William A. Gibson and Esther Louise Gibson, his wife, as claimants and the Mercantile Wholesale Company, Inc., plaintiff in the original proceedings, as respondent to determine the title to the property levied upon by the Sheriff in the above entitled case as the property of the United Home Heating Corporation, provided, however, that the claimant shall first file a statement of title and a bond double the amount of the judgment with one sufficient surety to be approved by the Court.

Order. Nook P.J. And now, November 9, 1961, after hearing in the above-entitled case, it appearing that the Relator has not refused to let the Respondent see and visit his children, but has only questioned his right to take the children from their home, by reason of her uncertainty as to where the children would be maintained, this Petition to adjudge the Relator in contempt of court is hereby dismissed upon the condition, however, that the Respondent, John W. Corblin, shall have the right to see and visit his daughter, Janet Arlene Corblin at reasonable and proper intervals and take the child to his home situate in Cochranville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania, two week-ends each month from Friday evening at five o'clock P.M. until Sunday evening at eight o'clock P.M. which unless otherwise agreed upon between the parties shall be the 2nd and 4th week-ends, except as provided in the Order entered on August 7, 1958.

It appearing to the court, however, that the Christmas week end falls on the fourth week-end in December, and it further appearing to be unfair to the children to remove them from the home to which they have been accustomed at Christmas time, in lieu of the Respondent having the right to have the children at his home on the week-end beginning December 23, 1961, he shall have the right to take them to his home, the week-end beginning December 29, 1961. However he shall have the right to see and visit the children on Monday afternoon December 25, 1961 and take them to his home for a period of three hours between three and eight o'clock P.M.
