PETITION TO FILE APPEAL NUNC PRO TUNC
1 copy atty.

AND NOW, this 4th day of December, 1998, it is hereby ORDERED that a hearing on the above-captioned matter shall be held on the 29th day of december, 1998, at 2:30 o'clock p.m., CR #2.

BY THE COURT:
Anthony J. Vardar, J

December 31, 1998 Order filed. And Now, December 29, 1998 this matter comes before the Court on a Pettiion to file an appeal Nunc Pro Tunc. The caption would indicate that this is filed as a criminal case, but in fact, it is a request to file an appeal from the susepnsion of a license for the alleged refusal to take a chemical test.
The petitioner appears with counsel and indicates that essentially, the issue revolvess around the fact that at the time of the preliminary hearing in the criminal case, the District Justice dismissed the criminal charge based on a determination that there was not probable cause to stop the vehicle of the petitioner. Thereafter, apparently the arresting officer submitted to PennDOT an indication that the petitioner had refused to take the reqeusted test and it is the petitioner's allegation that he never received notice from PennDOT that his license was being suspendeded within the time period to allow him to file an appeal.
The only things contained int he file, which is in fact properly filed in the Prothonotary's office in a certificate of service indicationg that Andrew Petach, Esq. from the Comm as well as Penn DOT were notified of the filing of the petition, but there is nothing to indicate that anyone was notified of the hearing date and we note that the representative from the commonwealth who normally appears in this Court is Wm. Kuhar, Esq.
Based on all of this, this matter is continued until Feb. 1, 1999 at 10AM in Courtroom No. 1 beford Judge Gordon R. Miller.
The petitioner shall promptly serve a copyo of the peittion to file appeal nunc pro tunc, together with this order indicating the hearing date upon Wm. Kuhar Esq.

June 28, 1999 Order filed. And Now, June 24, 1999 it appears that this Corut has allowed a mix-up to occur with respect to the plaintiff's attempt to file an amended complaint in this case.
The plaintiff originally appeared pro se and filed a pro se complaint. The defendant(s) filed preliminary objections which were argued on April 26, 1999. The preliminary objections were disposed of by a memorandum and order dated june 14, 1999.
In the meantime, however the plaintiff filed a motion to leave to amend his complaint on May 26, 1999 and Judge Vardaro ordered that the motion would be heard in the June 1999 argument list.
We cannot recall whether or not the undersigned judge who disposed of the preliminary objections on June 14, 1999 and effectively dismissed the plaintiff's complaint was aware of the fact that there was pending, in this Court, the plaintiff's motion to amend his complaint and another Judge had set an arguemtn. That being the case then we should not have entered our Order of June 14 1999 until we first disposed of the plaintiff's motion for leave to file an amended complaint since that was pending before the Court we should have disposed of that matter first or at least, simultaneously with the granting of the preliminary objections.
Normally when preliminary objections are sustained parties are permitted to file an amended complaint if they are able to allege facts that entitle them to relief. Accordingly, it is ordered as follows:
1. Our order of June 14, 1999 is vacated.
2. Oral argument on the plaintiff's motion for leave to file an amended complaint shall be held on Moanday, July 26, 1999 at a time to be set by the Court Administrator at the time the argument lsit is prepared. The argument shall be held in Courtrocm No. 1 of teh Crawford county Courthouse.

July 15, 1999 MEMORANDUM filed. Unfortunately we cannot grant this divorce even though it appears that the parties want to have a divorce and the Court should not stand in the way.

It is clear that if the defendant is not served with process within thirty (30) days after the date of the filing of the original complaint, or reinstated complaint, service is invalid. PA. R.C.P. 401(a); Lauterback v. Lauterback, 202 Pa. Super 260, 195 A.2d 159 (1963); Fox v. Thompson, 327 Pa. Super 39, 546 A.2d 1146(1988).

In this case the complaint was filed on Dec. 18, 1998. The defendant was not served until sometime around Feb. 10, 1999 as is evidenced by the return of service. Since service was beyond the thirty (30) days when the filing of the complaint serviced was ineffective.

Therefore we will not grant the divorce at this time. The plaintiff follow these steps: (SEE PAPERS FILED FOR FURTHER INFORMATION).

Accordingly, the Defendant is directed nto to contact the Plaintiff, attempt to reconcile with her, or threaten her directly or indirectly in any manner.

Mar 29, 1999 ORDER: AND NOW, March 24, 1999, this violation of abuse order is before the Court and the Court and counsel discussed the matter informally with certain input from witnesses who appear. The Court is satisfied the Defendant violated the terms and conditions of prior abuse orders but he has already served 15 days in jail as a consequences of the same.

We continue the PFA Order, direct that the Defendant be released from confinement in the Crawford County Jail, and when he becomes employed, he will arrange to pay the costs in this case and attorney fees in the amount of $75 in such installments as can be arranged.

The Defendant admits he has an alcohol problem and the Court suggests most strongly that he become enrolled in a drug and alcohol program but this requirement cannot be considered as an order to do so.

Visits with the children are suspended temporarily but after May 1, the Defendant may contact the mother of the children and attempt to set up a mutually agreeable visitation schedule for father to see the children and at any time he has visits, he shall not have consumed alcoholic beverages for a period of 24 hours in advance.
